In accordance with para 2 of Government Order No. R. 1684-93—L. 1. As the levy of the cess should begin from the next collection season, it is very necessary that the assessment of the cess on individual gardens should be settled at the ensuing jamabandi and the procedure indicated in the following para may be found useful.

2. Before the dates fixed for the jamabandi the shanbhog and patel of each village should make a pahani with a panchayat of the Survey numbers containing areca trees and prepare a statement in the form appended and fill up columns 1 to 5 and place the statement before the Taluk Jamabandi officer. This statement should include every Survey number dry, wet or garden, containing areca-nut trees. The correctness of this statement should be verified by the shekdar as far as possible. The village officials and other officers concerned should be made to understand that any wilful or careless mis-statement will be severely noticed.

3. An extract giving particulars of the cess payable for each Survey number in the accompanying form should be affixed in the village chawadi sometime before the Taluk or Huzur Jamabandi, as the case may be, with a notice that persons dissatisfied might represent the case to these officers. In column 6 the amount of cess payable should be entered, calculated according to the rules contained in the above proceedings, paras A to E.

4. The Taluk Jamabandi officer should, as usual, check the statements, hear the parties and inspect the lands, if necessary, and record his opinion in column 9.

5. The Huzur Jamabandi officer will pass the final orders in column 10, the amount of cess leviable from each holder being then brought on the village accounts.

6. A villagewar and talukwar abstract showing the amount of cess payable should be prepared after the jamabandi is over and sent to the District Office for record.

7. The Jamabandi officers should devote a para in their jamabandi reports as to the results of this cess assessment.
